

Family Resource Center

The right toy might keep your child entertained for hours—the right book could provide you with an answer to an important parenting question you’re wondering about. Come see the great collection of books, toys and information materials available at the Family Resource Centers located in New Brighton and Shoreview. The centers are lending libraries with books, videos and magazines related to parenting children birth through adolescence. Educational toys and books for infants, toddlers, and preschoolers are also available for checkout.

The centers are free to use for those living in the Mounds View school district. Cash donations, new or gently used toys and books are appreciated. Volunteers are needed to help clean and process incoming toys and books.
